DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 3-2-01 was filed in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement was considered by the examiner.

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: the related application information on page 1 is listed with the attorney docket numbers. Since the applications have since received US serial numbers, the attorney docket information should be replaced with the US serial numbers and all information should be updated as to status of such applications. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-28, 32, 36-46, and 48 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because

Application/Control Number: 09/575,181

Art Unit: 3624

the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Independent claims 1, 4, 5, and 33 claim a person (purchaser) which is not patentable subject matter.

Dependent claims 2, 3, 6-28, 34-46, and 48 are indefinite because they depend from rejected base claims 1, 4, 5, and 33.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 8-17, 23, 26, 33-42, and 44-48 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 8, 10, 12, and 15 all state "the parameter" when it should actually be "the at least one parameter" to be consistent with other occurrences of the same recitation.

In claim 23, the term "substantially" renders the claim indefinite.

Claim 26 is confusing because it is unclear if the "particular potential purchaser" is the same as the potential purchaser previously identified in claims 1 & 4 or a different person. Clarification is required.

Claim 33 recites the limitation "the potential purchaser" in lines 5 and 7 on page 89. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. The first occurrence of the recitation should be "a potential purchaser," however see the rejection based on 35 U.S.C. 101 with regard to claiming a person.

Claims 9, 11, 13-17, 22, 34-42 and 44-48 are indefinite because they depend from rejected base claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-22, 24-27, 29- 49, 51 and 55 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by the Perazza patent (5,326,959).

The Perazza patent discloses a method of enabling bill payment of bills comprising the steps of providing a purchaser with a form containing information relating to a payment (col. 11, lines 1-13); receiving indicating data from a sensing device (col. 16, lines 29-54 and col. 11, lines 18-22); and identifying at least one parameter relating to the payment (col. 16, lines 24-54).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 23, 42, 46 and 58 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the Perazza patent as applied to claims 1, 4, 5, 29, 32 and 33 above, and further in view of the PCT application WO 99/50787 (XEROX).

The Perazza patent discloses all the elements of the claimed invention, as stated above, except the data being substantially invisible (claims 23, 46 and 58) and the sensing device having a marking nib (claim 42). The XEROX reference teaches the data being substantially invisible (page 8, lines 23-25) and the sensing device having a marking nib (505, page 14, lines 10-19). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the Perazza patent to have substantially invisible data so as to interfere with other visible markings on the bill and to have a sensing device with a nib so that should marks be necessary on the bill, they can be made at the time of reading the bill with the sensing device.

Claims 28 and 48 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the Perazza patent as applied to claims 1, 4, 5, 29, 32 and 33 above, and further in view of the Japanese Patent Abstract 10194562 A.

The Perazza patent discloses all the elements of the claimed invention, as stated above, except the binding of a multipage bill (claims 28 and 48). The Japanese patent abstract reference teaches the binding of multiple pages of the bill (Solution portion of Abstract). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the Perazza patent to have a means of binding a bill having multiple pages so that the various pages will remain together and reduce the opportunity for them to become separated.

Claims 50, 52-54, 56 and 59 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the Perazza patent as applied to claim 49 above, and further in view of the Sekendur Patent (US 5,477,012).

The Perazza patent discloses all the elements of the claimed invention, as stated above, except the sensing device generating time-varying information (claim 50); digital ink (claim 52); a wireless pen interface (claim 53); data from pen tilt (claim 54); data from dots (claim 56); a target area indicating corners (claim 57); and infrared absorbing media (claim 59). The Sekendur reference teaches the sensing device generating time-varying information (col. 1, lines 64-66); digital ink (col.3, lines 25-35); a wireless pen interface (col. 5, lines 1-10); data from pen tilt (col. 1, lines 64-66); data from dots (col. 4, lines 28-41); a target area indicating corners (col. 4, lines 45-59); and infrared absorbing media (col. 4, lines 25-27).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the Perazza patent to have the sensing device of Sekendur so as to provide more versatility to the scanning device already present in Perazza thereby allowing for various types of forms/bills to be processed using the same system.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-19, 23-24, 28-40 and 42-48 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-21, 25, and 29-47 of copending Application No. 09/575,197. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both sets of claims are directed to a method of enabling online bill payment, with the minor difference being a bill is claimed in the '181 application wherein a form is claimed in the '197 application.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The Hilt et al., Bednar et al., Comesanas, Anderson, Hughes et al., Kight et al., Hogan, Story and Pollin patents are directed to automatic bill payment systems. The Peters et al. patent is for a user account system. The Brindze et al. patent is for a storage drive that has a data head.
